

Paul Horan
Lead Solution Architect
Snowflake

Paul Horan is the Lead Solution Architect for Snowflake Federal. Paul's career in Information Technology has spanned nearly 35 years and, in that time, he's gained experience with nearly every relational database platform on the market. Paul has covered the Federal territory as a Technical Sales Engineer since 2006 and joined Snowflake in November of 2017. Paul currently resides in Arlington, VA with his wife and son.